Borger wins 1st place for Anti-bullying Poem

Aubrianna Borger, junior, won first place for her original contest entry of an anti-bullying poem. As a 10th grade student, Aubrianna wrote "Today is the Day".

She was notified in July 2015 that she was awarded first place. The contest was part of Rutger's University Behavioral Health.

"Today is the day,
we see ourselves in a different way.
Some may be strong,
while others weak.
Some at the bottom,
while some at their peak."
